Dear Chief:

I am writing to you for assistance in enforcement of New Jersey's Fireworks Laws N.J.S.A. 21:2-1 et seq. and N.J.S.A. 21:3-1 et seq. Hopefully, by educating the public on the hazards of fireworks and the prohibition of their use, we can reduce the sale and use of illegal fireworks and create a safer environment for New Jersey's citizens.

In the past few years, we have documented well over a hundred people that were treated in hospital emergency rooms for burns, eye injuries, lacerations, or amputations caused by fireworks. In 2009, seven accidents were reported. Others may have been treated by their own physicians or at hospitals out of state.

I am enclosing a letter which our inspectors distribute to shopkeepers, flea markets, and other locations where fireworks are likely to be sold. This letter informs the recipients that only paper and plastic caps may be sold for public use. I have also directed that the following procedure be used by our safety inspectors when they encounter illegal sale or use of fireworks.

When an inspector encounters a facility where fireworks are being illegally sold, they are to proceed directly to the nearest police department and return to the establishment with a police officer who will confiscate the fireworks, and then the inspector will document the violation(s) on a Department of Labor and Workforce Development (LWD) violation form.

As stipulated in the Fireworks Laws, offering for sale, or sale of fireworks, is a crime of the fourth degree, with a maximum fine of $7,500 and/or a jail sentence of up to 18 months. Any individual who possesses or discharges fireworks is guilty of a petty disorderly offense and subject to a maximum fine of $500 and/or a jail sentence of up to 30 days. The LWD will also file a summons in Municipal Court against any person who sells, offers, or exposes for sale, or possesses with intent to sell, any fireworks.

I believe the most effective way to publicize the hazards of fireworks, and the fact that it is illegal to use them, would be for you to issue a statement about this in your local newspaper. A number of police chiefs have done so in the past few years with good results. Should you choose to do so, I would appreciate receiving a copy of the article.

The Fireworks Laws, which also address the ordering and shipment of fireworks into the State by mail order houses, can be accessed at our website at: <http://lwd.dol.state.nj.us/labor/lssc/employee/Fireworks.html>.

If we can be of assistance in your enforcement of the Fireworks Laws, please call me at (609) 292-2313.

Sincerely,

Howard Black, Acting Assistant Commissioner
